LATEST FROM VICKSBURG. Produce and Provision Merchants, Interesting Reports on McClernand's Operations.

> [Special Dispatch to the Missouri Democrat.] CAIRO, Jan. 31.—The United States ram Horner arrived from the scene of operations near Vicksburg this morning, Capt. G. J. White, of Chicago, commanding. The Captain was bearer of dis-patches to Capt. Pennock and Gen. Curtis at St. Louis.

From letters of your special correspondent with the fleet, and statements of other reliable persons, I extract the following late news from the land-and river forces near Vicksburg;

The steamer Sovereign, fitted up and used as a store boat, and part of the fleet, was run into a few days since while lying at anchor at the mouth of White River, by the steamer Rocket, striking her amidship, shattering the stern of the Rocket, and damaging badly the star-board wheels and guards of the Sovereign. The latter is left undergoing repairs, and the remainder of the fleet, about the 20th inst., passed down the

WHARF - BOAT PROPRIETORS, Rover, a hospital steamer, was fired into by a gang of mounted guerrillas. No one was burt. This was on the 21st inst. One of us will be found aboard both day and night | On the 22d the fleet moved on to Tipbott's plantation, five miles shove I ake Providence, Louisiana, McClernand's force on the large fleet of transports came to a halt near the mouth of Yazoo River, on Friday, the 22d. During that day and the next the men engaged in landing troops upon the peninsula through which a canal was cut last summer, and opposite Vicksburg. The transports filled up the levee space two miles above and below the mouth of the river. The Red Rover was moored in the river; a short distance up stream, in the Mississippi, opposite the shore, were the gunboat Tyler and two steam rams; below were the Lexington and more rams; transports were above the Red River; in Yazoo River were the gunboats Benton, Chillicothe, Louisville, Pittsburg, Judge Torrence, and steamer Great Western-the latter an ammunition boat Seven rebel transports are reported to have passed up the Yazoo, in the absence of our fleet, for supplies or men, and are now closely trapped there by this strong array of gunboats. Should they attempt to come out, they must be

The advance position of the gunboats and transports-those near the gunboat Lexington - is about seven miles by water and about three by land from Vicksburg. When the troops are all landed on the peninsula, they will go up the river for thirty thousand more. The rumor that hard work had again been commenced upon the canal through this neck of land is not corroborated by those just from the place. It may be soon done, however.

On Friday and Saturday the ram Horner, Capt. White, was on picket duty, and passing the advance, was soon in plain view of the city, and could see steamers leaving and arriving, and people standing on the levee. In the afternoon the rebels opened with shell upon the ram and Federal scouts they saw opposite the city. No harm was done. They perhaps thought to drive our men from the peniusula, but did not succeed. The effects of bad water in the Yazoo country, and confinement to the transports have made terrible havoe among our military men. Those on the guaboats stand it better. Yet the Generals in command will never give it up until 2000 Braids; 1000 yards Gold Army Cord; in command will never give it up until it in command will never give it up mander is placed at the head of affairs, and with the co-operation of Admiral

Porter's fleet things will be accomplished. The rebels are hazarding everything to thwart our designs in this particular. The late rains have rendered the country almost impassable, and some days must elapse before any extended movement can take place. Capt. Sullivan, of the ram Queen of the West, was married to a handsome Southern widow on board the gunboat Tyler, a few days since, several United States officers participating, and Admiral Porter giving away the blushing bride. New Drug Store, The lady of Captain Sullivan is strong THE LARGEST VARIETY OF HAIR secess and has a lot of negroes, which Brushes, Dressing Combs. Tooth Brushes, Hair Oils, Pomades, and Handkerchief Extracts, ever brought to the city.

Also just received some of the celebrated Parafide tion, and is reported very wealthy in Chewing Gum. Also, a pure article of Tolu Wax and Sprace Gum at SCHLAEPFER'S wild and Japanese Life of Level and Japanese Life of

EVANSVILLE, IND. WEDNESDAY MORNING,

Chief of Cavalry, well known as a gallant SCHROEDER & LEMCKE, and useful officer. We went on Friday, the 23rd instant, to capture some rebel ferry boats running across soldiers from Louisiana, there to Vicksburg below the taking, but one very necessary to be accomplished, and the fact that it was committed to Col. Stuart's hands, is an indication of the estimation as a man and soldier in which he was held by his commanding officers.

The job had not been completed when Col. Stewart's little force was attacked by the rebel outposts, and a desperate encounter ensued, during which Colonel Stewart was shot dead, and his men dispersed and several wounded. The body of the Colonel had been recovered when my informant left the fleet, but was found rifled by the chivalric enemy.

The First Gun of the Rebellion. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal relates the following incident: Orators often allude to the first gun of the rebellion, as having been fired when the rebel batteries opened upon Fort Sumter, and that gray-haired old conspirator, Ruthin, is said to have pulled the lanyards. But a gentleman who was in Charleston for some time after South Carolina adopted the ordinance of secession, on the 20th December, 1860, tells a different story. Major Ancerson had occupied Fort Sumter, and the South Carolina commissioners, it will be remebered, were at Washington. Hopes were entertained at Charleston that Buchanan would crown his work by recognizing secession. On Saturday night, the 28th, a dispatch was received from one of the commissioners, in cypher, which rend thus when interpreted: "Guard the entrance to the harbor—prepare for war." It was then known that Floyd had been driven from the Cabinet, and that Sumter would not be given up. The next day-Sunday-the convention was in session, and the city was startled by the stopping a Rough or Slight booming of cannon. A Federal salute Rold in its first stage; that which of thirty-one guns was rapidly fired from in the beginning would yield to a the United States arsenal, in the western mild remedy, if not attended to, scon suburbs of the city. It ceased, and then was heard a single gun! The arsenal had been surrendered, the stars and stripes had been saluted as they were hauled down, and as the single-starred of the national ensign, it was announced by the first gun of the rebellion.

A Copperhead Landlord.

The traveling public who have occasion to stop in Davenport, should bear in mind that the keeper of the Burtis House in that place, is so intensely copperhead will find them effectual for clearing that he ejected a news dealer from his and strengthening the voice. house, in a most violent manner, because love for the Union would not justify him in selling the secesh Chicago Times. Tie also rerused to ter the gr sold in his house. The Copperhead landlord will of course eject every guest from his house who refuses to buy and read the Chicago Times. The logic is inexorable. The Scott House is kept by J. J. Humphreys, is a most excellent one, as is also the Pennsylvania House, kept by Mr. Davis. Both landlords are true hearted Union men .- Chicago Tribune.

RATHER SEVERE.—The Chillicothe Constitution has the following, which may be of interest to the editor of the St. Joseph Journal:

* * * The sight of the Democratic vote will make their heads swim. The Democrats will, in 1864, have as many bayonets in their hands as the Abolitionists.-St. Joseph Journal.

They have them in their hands now, but they are using them on the south side of the Rappahannock. And this man John P. Bruce, maddened by disappointed ambition, is trying to rally his fellow locofocos in Missouri, Illinois, and other free States, to reinforce them. Yet a little while longer, John, and if you don't see the error of your ways, you'll see something that will make your head swim-free from your spinal column.

RUMORS ABOUT GEN. McCLELLAN .-The city is full of rumors to-day that General McClellan has tendered his resignation. Ever since the publication of Gen. Hitchcock's letter, severely commenting on General McClellan's conduct, the gossippers have been noising it around that the latter would be courtmartialed on charges preferred by the former, in behalf of the President. I give these rumors for what they are worth, not being able to vouch their truthfulness .- Washington Cor. Philadelphia

General Scott's health is said to be fast failing him now. He is confined to his apartment in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, almost entirely helpless, and, what is worse, it is said that his mind at length is breaking down under the weight of years, and mental and bodily trouble. He receives few visitors, and these only his most intimate friends.

THE PRESIDENT'S WIFE.-It may not be known that Mrs. Lincoln has contributed more than any lady at Washington, from her private purse, to alleviate the suffering of our wounded soldiers; and it is but just to say that day by day her carriage is seen in front of the hospitals, where she distributes with her own hands micacies prepared in the kitchen of the White House. The fear of contagion and the outeries of pestilence fall un-heeded upon the ear of those whose mission is mercy .- Washington Republi-
